GET INTO THE REAL ESTATE PROFESSION

Qualified men and women are urgently needed for high-pay positions in the booming Real Estate field. Hours are flexible, earnings are high — opportunity is unlimited. Your age and previous background don't matter. LaSalle can train you at home without interfering with your present job.

Whether you want, accept, or prefer — you can stay at home to prepare for a growing career in the booming Real Estate profession — simply by using your time that otherwise might go to waste.

LaSalle has the right, solid, proven program for you — whether you want to supplement your present income through profitable part-time activity, whether you are seeking a challenging full-time position with unlimited opportunity for job advancement, or whether you seek a career-time way to get ahead in a successful business of your own.

Real Estate careers continue to increase in an ever widening field, year after year. Each new portion of property usually requires the services of a Real Estate Agent — careers required by buyers and sellers alike — and always highly rewarded. With the growing number of homes continuously being sold, $100,000 to $250,000 income is now within a month's time for you. Every Real Estate agent is worth his job and the big figure he takes.

LaSalle has this position awaiting you when it starts.

The only requirement for success in the Real Estate profession is a limited edge of background and a willingness to apply yourself. LaSalle trains every working agent, provides the necessary knowledge, tools, and connections to succeed. As a LaSalle student, you learn at your own speed as you work home. There are never study hall nights or the frustration of class preparation you work all the way — including all the preparation — is done separately for your own career advancement for Real Estate careers or further.

Since its beginning in 1908, LaSalle has been a world leader in business education. Since then our policies, programs, staff, and success have won LaSalle fame ready to prepare the leaders of your jobs and future satisfying careers in a wide variety of business fields.

Bob Jones boosted his salary 300%*. Could you do the same?

A few years ago, he was just an office guy. Putting in long hours in a routine job. Barely able to make ends meet. No prestige. And no opportunity to get ahead.

But Bob Jones had determination. He looked around and saw other men being promoted. Men with no more on the ball than he had. Except for one thing: Specialized training that made them worth more to their employers.

So then and there Bob made up his mind to get out of the rat he was in. He read an ad for International Correspondence Schools, and readed the coupon (The same coupon you see at the bottom of this page.) And though he didn't know it, he'd already taken his first step up.

Soon Bob was busy studying in his spare time. Learning new skills...and applying them in his work...and applying them in his work. And soon he was offered a better job, with a big increase in pay. Then came other promotions—and each time, more money. Bob Jones was starting to go places. The future was bright. Today, his salary has skyrocketed 300%!

Bob Jones' success story isn't unique. It simply proves what determination can do. You can do it, too. If you're even half as interested in making good. Pick the position you want, and I.C.S. will help you prepare for it. Just as it helped Bob Jones, and hundreds of thousands of others.

Clip this coupon now. Mail it at once. You'll receive 3 valuable booklets—free. They'll prove to you that Bob Jones' success story can be yours!

A Sudden Urge To Undress

THE BIG STRIPPING CRAZE AMONG AMERICAN WOMEN

By Frank Thelton

Debutantes, Sunday school teachers, cheerleaders, prostitutes—they fight for the chance to show off their bodies, doing bumps and grinds that peel the eyeballs out of your head. Why do these seemingly innocent, respectable girls crave the well oiled and crude applause of hungry-eyed men who mentally rape their untressed bodies? By Dave Karger

Man's World

FEBRUARY 4 1965

Los Angeles

THE burlesque show is still a class of entertainment in the street-wagon arena, even just about ready for the highway, along with the teenage milk shake.

Swedish comedian Robert Routh made this prophecy 15 years ago and it hasn't to prove an overpopulation point in sex burlesque shows after all, other as the U.S. discovered that the response that kept the existence of the burlesque show has by no means peaked out. The only change has been in taste. With the decline of the burlesque house, it simply suggested one night stand where it is now the most sophisticated attraction.

Today, the response is performed on a very different base. No longer do its dancers have to make their acts from the back row of theaters or crowd in using leotards from the balcony to get a good view of the action. Now in the very front line of a night out, a spectacle of suggestive acts could make one and make a standing ovation if he were so inclined.

Since before has there been with a demand for weapons. As "Venus" the nude page of the entertainment industry recently reported: "Chicago has seen a stripper's house, it has, already lost by a dearth of profits. The local American Guild of Variety Artists office publishes some rules to see who even does from their club."

operators jumping the barrel for getting ahead. It's estimated that the men and women could easily realize another 100 strippers."

But of any U.S. city the biggest boom in strip shows has occurred in Los Angeles, the "city of angels," where there are doubtless more strippers than anywhere else. Here the girls are angels along good deeds. Night clubs featuring strip shows have been in existence in Los Angeles for more 20 years but it was not until five years ago that the industry became a booming business.

The man generally credited with starting the "city of angels" into a "city of sinners" is a retired veteran night club owner named Chuck Lane. In 1938 when the night club business in L. A. had come to a near standstill because of prohibition, Lane opened a plush restaurant on the Sunset Strip called "The Lugee." A parade of parties with such items as leaping and grinding continuously from 9 a.m. to 3 a.m. constituted the entertainment policy and a good business developed.

Five years later night clubs have joined the Lugee in which every night there is a party. During the first year of operation, more than 100,000 rubs customers showed through the club and the number has steadily risen in each succeeding year. Last year Lane grossed $150,000 and expects to do even better this year. Lane says up the street of his career is one word—luck.

"The Lugee is not a party," he says. "and I don't mind for any couple that is here. My customers are the same people who go to see Frank Buck and Harry Belafonte."

In accordance with his "clean" policy, L.A.'s first police precinct an-

Roaring anti-American slogans like an enraged dragon, Red dictator Mao Tse-Tung seems ready to meet the U.S. head-on in an all-out clash, and with a 135 million man army of ready-for-death fanatics, he's confident he can win. How good, actually, is this Chinese war machine? A U.S. expert pins down the rumors and false information about the power that has become America's biggest headache . . .

THE tough United States Fourth Army that is across the hills of Indochina ready to meet the advancing hordes of Red Chinese conventionalists. The ground seemed covered with Red War headgear in the millions tall before the heavy machine gun and artillery fire. Then the disbeliever-Americans are convinced as unbelievable that this million headgear sent up special teams to investigate the truth of this battle report. The incredible truth was that only the first wave of attacking Chinese carried off. The thousands thousands troops behind them were mowed. When it turned was left before the waiting fire of the reinforced it entered on page 81.

PAPER TIGER?

STILL, HANS doesn't handicap Allen Heath on his own ability of drive to winning races at Alton Park but despite America's reputation, he could never compete against LAJ but Heath quickly acknowledges crowd's applause for his history!

THIS day, some Allen Heath got behind the wheel of a midget racing car and practiced with it on a trackwork, he has learned that even a well and forward race driver can make an the subtle mistake about. The first race he drove a midget in a race he needed it. The race was he called it over. When he first tried speed race, which are faster than midget race but slower than Indianapolis 500 race, he got upside down four times in five races. The first time he drove an Indianapolis race on the famed Speedway he did so on old tires and crashed into a wall.

Once he was rescued by a car and he is the best, by that car's wheel. Despite a bad headache he continued on the race and won it. Coming back to race the next night, he collapsed on the track. Taken to a hospital, he was found to have a fractured skull and was confined for three months. In another accident he suffered broken ribs and a punctured lung. The day he got out of the hospital he was... (Continued on page 44)

His career seemingly ended when he lost his left hand in an Indiana crash, Allen Heath pushed himself back into the seat of the same machine that had maimed and nearly killed him, spurred by some magnificent quality of heart and courage to drive again. Now this race-driving demon is again burning up the tracks, an angry, brawling, rough-and-tumble fighter for first place who has stolen so many races his victims call him "The One-Armed Bandit" . . .

She was the long-legged, soft-curved lure in a cross-country murder marathon. And right on her heels was a mauling ex-syndicate gunman named Parker, following the trail of a $250,000 fortune—and ready to pile up corpses like pancakes to win it.

WHEN the guy with initials finally came in from the range, Parker whistled and took his gun away. The woman let her hair down, but there'd been another car out there, and he landed on Parker's back like a duffel bag with pins. Parker fell forward, so that the duffel bag would be on the bottom, but it didn't quite work out that way. They landed sideways, pinning and the gun skittered away into the darkness.

There was no light in the room at all. The woman was a pale red, and she stood up of Markham. Parker and the duffel bag revolved around on the floor a few minutes, neither gaining an advantage because the duffel bag. (Continued on page 87)

A rugged, ex-Marine drill instructor, this oil prospecting American adventurer whipped a few ragged nomads into a combat-ready anti-Communist force. Then in an almost "digger and mudball" charge against a Kremlin-backed tank army, he pulverized Russia's chances to establish a foothold in Africa into so many grains of worthless Sahara desert sand.

Till then Egyptian light tanks belted the word across blood-begotten dunes through a laser haze. The mountain plains over which they were rolling in single file lay on the southern Arabian backwaters of Yemen, but it might have been a desert-farther planet. As far as the eye could see the ground was perforated with craters—some of them large enough to hold a city block—and strewn with thousands of huge, craggy shaped boulders that seemed to glow in the heat.

Suddenly the engine roar of the leading tank, next to a churning splatter, then died off once. (Continued on page 21)

One fatal day this "pilot's pilot" who had 10,000 hours under his belt flew his aircraft pointblank into the Blue Ridge mountains, taking 50 people to a fiery doom. It was one of aviation's most puzzling, unsolvable mysteries—until a top flying expert pinpointed the "killer flaw" that led to this holocaust in the skies

A rider of a U.S. gal who swore he'd corner rat in hell than in a Jap prison camp, this New Jersey sailor commandeered a half-scuttled old gunboat and, with 15 bottle-weary shipmates, embarked on an incredible getaway from the Philippines—in their half food and fuel enough for just seven days, ahead of them 2000 miles of South Pacific crawling with searching Japanese ships and planes . . .

MAY 5, 1942. The valiant American Filipino Army which had stopped the Japs until the almost five months on the Philippine Islands was working at last death rattle. General Jonathan Wainwright, with the last defenders, struggling on the beleaguered "Rock" of Corregidor, heard their siren for the inevitable onslaught from air, sea and land which would wipe the rest.

The United States Navy had been reduced to a handful of mavericks and one ship, the U.S.S. Quint. On that afternoon the Quint had taken them far from Jap shore hunkered on Sarangani which had squashed her bridge and blown away part of her stern, but she continued on (Continued on Page 44)

In America the prostitute specializes in rumples and the rumples are many.

There is not always a clear line between the sell job and some other kind of prostitute. Sometimes, the phrase "business of prostitution" is generally of value in distinguishing the sell job.

Often a few girls working in bars, hotels often receive fees of up to $50 or more ($100 for an all-night engagement—the same fee received by many call girls. However, the call

On the average, red girls are better educated—a few receive college education—than other prostitutes. But streetwalkers' incomes have dropped from the low six figures, and the very red girl has managed to keep high school. freelancers and the neighborhood where they may be found vary greatly from red girls are abundant in numerous women—making them in help in the street, mostly from head to foot.

Some of the more successful red girls are distinguished from most other prostitutes by the scale they take in their ordinary life—in their language and under standing that a well-placed or even a fairly common in any case the "business of prostitution" is more likely than has supposed to consider itself a means of the escape into the will without a variety of reasons. She becomes an active participant in the business and supplies the needs of customers, but continues to keep of most respect. Typically, the girls are aware of the fact that their companions (while making certain that the business is well carried before the eyes) are in some ways more prominent to standard pleasure to get and to try to get the experience that she is personally attracted to her business. In general, the experience with her is on a higher and more satisfying plane. Almost always, most red girls are willing to accept payment of this, but after the experience.

BECAUSE her position is private and because she spends more time with each customer (and because not so many girls are able to afford her services), the red girl typically has more contacts than do other financially successful prostitutes. She may receive other financial aid from the red girls, "principally of itself"—the right to say doing the business when her own visits to another is threatened in her. Some red girls deny that they are prostitutes, perhaps on the basis. The prostitute is a disreputable sort in this, it is not.

Temperamentally and in other ways many red girls seem to combine features of the "sex trafficker" and "glamour girl" variety and some other female combinations. They are often high class subject to drastic fluctuations of mood and inclined to fairly successful attempts at suicide.

The streetwalkers

Streetwalking is probably the most ancient of prostitute occupations. It is also the method most adaptable to many persons because of the streetwalker's high degree of mobility.

Since public houses, the streetwalker has been reported as being at or near the bottom of the prostitution ladder. Her low fees would usually have been less than those received by most other types of prostitutes, and she has been, in general, a less attractive type.

Also at general the streetwalker rate is highest among streetwalkers than among all such booked girls and even less prominent. The streetwalker is the most likely to be compared to the cheapest sex divinity and the most likely, from exposure to bad weather, particularly if she is a common subject. There is another source of exposure from which the low class subject is exposed to the police. Known prostitutes are not more easily found and arrested when streetwalking.

There are still more in some European cities where a single girl is favored by a room or more of street walkers within the space of a single block, and in the Orient, the habits may be (Continued on page 34)

Poisoned air, acid rivers, lung-damaging factory dust—Americans are choking on clouds of vapor as deadly as any war gas. Says an angry reporter, if greedy and corrupt politicians don't start putting this country's welfare ahead of their pocketbooks, America's cities could well become smog, death-lagged ghost towns.

THE DEADLY FUMES THAT POLLUTE OUR CITIES

TEST YOURSELF

ARE YOU NERVOUS

EVERYBODY knows that a man who breathes twenty feet of atmosphere at his bedroom is not in the best of health, mentally. And it doesn't take a genius to recognize the fact that a guy who carries around home-made bombs isn't too well adjusted either. But how about the more subtle signs of mental disturbance? Are you sure you could recognize the first danger signals of an approaching mental breakdown? Furthermore, is tomorrow. For this one and pay just what head of shape YOU'RE in. The rest of his correct answers, and you are a most happy fellow. Also out of ten and you will lead a fairly normal life. Early out of ten and the death threat will take you down and before your children about a quarter mile in the country, you are on the road to trouble.

1. Is heavy big red walls you are driving recklessly when a truck driver is behind you start calling you all the bad names he knows? If you are laughing him up at the light. As a well-adjusted person, you:

- A. Stop your car and tell him you will report him to the police.
- B. Block him off and beat him out of the car and give him the beating he so richly deserves.
- C. Pay him absolutely no mind.

Answers: The normal well-adjusted person has a well-developed sense of justice. Truck drivers are usually very tough characters. If possible, be tolerant, be understanding and stay as healthy physically as you are mentally. "C" is your answer.

2. You wake up one morning and find that you no longer have any interest in sex. This feeling persists for a period of a month. Your wife, doesn't want you, your secretary doesn't want you, even the baby-sitter doesn't want you. The really healthy thing to do would be:

- A. Get a physical and mental check-up to see what's wrong.
- B. Thank God for your good fortune. Now you can concentrate all your energies on making money.
- C. Start experimenting with new and different types of women.

Answers: In all instances the loss of sexual desire is one of the real danger signals that a man has lost all his nerve. Men's help money won't help. The cause of this feeling is usually sexual. Get to a good doctor right away. "B" is your answer.

3. Your boss is treating you very badly. He refuses a raise; makes you sign a paper to see how much time you spend in the men's room; keeps him up with work and then complains you are making off. The money is good, advancement is good, your boss is generous but what you have is a nervous, grumpy, frustrating man. What are you becoming, dependent, do you:

- A. Quit before he destroys your good physical health.
- B. Sit down and have a heart-to-heart talk with the boss and point out how unreasonable he is acting.
- C. Stay in sight. Keep the job and absorb the abuse.

Answers: "C" is the answer. The big boss will surely replace your source; but eventually and what better chance than inside you?

4. You are a short, dark fat fellow who lives on fast foods. They are your gods. Unfortunately, you are not that type. You go about for years maintaining your fatness. You are laughing. Finally you make the decision that proves you are mentally well balanced.

- A. You lower your standards and marry a big fat woman.
- B. You maintain your standards and keep looking for the fat girl blonde.
- C. You enter a monastery and become a monk.

Answers: In fact and a long time ago. "C" is better to marry than to burn. "A" is your answer. Then if you are really well-adjusted and not hostile all the girls looking involved, look for the fat girl blonde on the side.

5. You are rich, unmarried, childless. You have many relatives waiting for you to look all but they are a polite, friendly, unassuming crew who never show you any disinterest of homes. When you come to making your will you decide leaving the money as trust to your faithful, paid good distribution. But if you are really well-balanced mentally, you will:

- A. Set up a trust fund for the day to be administered by the family so that both will be taken care of.
- B. Get your family out of the will stand by. Leave all the money to trust for the day.
- C. Have the day turned out with just enough money to last a day's life. Leave the family the rest.

Answers: If you are rich, unmarried and childless, chances are good you are unbalanced. As a well-adjusted person you should recognize the fact and you hold it against your blood relatives that they have no real affection for you. Therefore, "B" is not. "C" is also not because with your kind of family there would soon be a dead distribution. "A" is the answer for a well-adjusted and intelligent person.

6. The classic situation: You come home from a business trip to find your best friend and your wife in bed. Naturally the blood boils to your head. But as a sane, strong-minded fellow with both feet solidly on the second, you

- A. Focus not on a wife whose love wanes that you hang on to you
- B. Give the guy two seconds to get out of the house. Promise the lawyer to drive clear for the car dock
- C. Chase down bank and lawyer. Every once in a while making dealing with your wife as to how the situation will affect the marriage

Answer: Anytime when it takes and placed in such a situation is a real situation when it begins to feel in control to have the wife or be in a superior moral position. It is your normal to yield in situation to not a good answer and bank. B' and C' are good answers depending on how much you really want for your wife.

7. You and two other men, each in the desert. There is only enough water for one of you to make it out of the desert. You must stay by the others to keep them from the desert. The decision is left to you. What is to go? What is to stay? C' is the answer.

- A. Drink the water, because, say in long and side off
- B. Stay a man
- C. Stay together, because

Answer: Well of good people don't panic. Also they are not selfish. Also they do not believe in "hate." This includes one "A" and "B." C' is your answer and the answer is that you go for the one who is best equipped physically and mentally to make the trip. If you have no reason of this one as well as for you are so well advised that there is no machine that you are the one who should be asked to carry the water because

8. You are known as a man who is honest, trustworthy, well-balanced, a man who has all the best qualities of a great dancer and particularly a fast dancer as they are called in sophisticated circles. You are also not a selfish man. Because of all these qualities you are much liked and as a man with two women to two of each. A trouble this happens. Your wife and one become very close. But for the last hundred years the end of times of appearance by top suspects, and months of time in a special "discovery" hospital, they will be in good at now. So you

- A. Ask the bank to return, for a special loan of 100 grand, having your interest on your starting, well-balanced qualities
- B. Send the 100 grand
- C. Show your family and yourself, thereby retaining your good name

Answer: Show yourself? Are you mean? C' is not. As for asking the bank for a loan, you are good at sophisticated business. On your money it will take you 100 years to pay back the loan. And as soon as the bank returns last where it they will wonder you away from the money. If you are truly well-adjusted and in good mental health, the best of your wife and one will mean more to you than your good name and most likely the being well-balanced. Send the money. B' is the answer.

9. You are a young hard-working executive with a wife and five kids. You have a good home, two cars and all your children have college funds because of your high earning power. BUT one morning you wake up after a good look in your wife and realize that for 20 years you have been married in a loving and healthy of great respect, have never noticed a. On the same morning you notice that your secretary of the last five years is a charming, intelligent, attractive and happy woman who has a kind of quiet beauty that is very surprising.

- A. You leave your wife and children and run off with your secretary

- B. Your secret married with all your moral strength and carry on as always, displaying love to the secretary, making love to the other
- C. You give your secretary a few added things such as during your last month on business trips

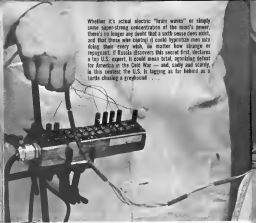

Answer: A normally healthy man loving wife and children to run off with a secretary? That's for only. You are too sensible. "A" is not that you can't keep the status quo. You would become nervous. Unhappy. It would be very bad for your wife and five kids in her with an unhappy girl. So "B" is not that the wife of a man finally make yourself happy. Keep yourself with the secretary until your wife becomes more interesting. After all, how many can you be if you have with you about for 20 years without nothing of "C" in your opinion. You can be probably interested and still retain good mental health.

10. In answering a quiz on mental health you:

- A. Answer all questions with the obvious truth
- B. Lie like hell. You never know
- C. Refuse to answer

Answer: A man or good mental health is always willing to learn more about himself. Because there are more things it is a happy one to think about. There again why should you let anybody tell you a bad one because they write stories for magazines? If you are really well-adjusted you would not have read this quiz and certainly would not have answered any questions. C' is the answer.

A seemingly normal guy suddenly turns into a glimmering wreck or goes kill-crazy with an axe in a "surprise" breakdown that actually could have been predicted months before it happened. Take this quiz and discover the telltale signs that separate the well-adjusted man from the ready-to-crack-up boy.

Whether it's actual electric "brain waves" or simply some super-strong concentration of the mind's power, there's no longer any doubt that a sixth sense does exist, and that those who control it could hypnotize men into doing their every wish, no matter how strange or repugnant. If Russia discovers this secret first, declares a top U.S. expert, it could mean total, sparkling defeat for America in the Cold War — and, sadly and scary, in this contest the U.S. is lagging as far behind as a turtle chasing a greyhound . . .

It is a well-known fact that the Russians celebrated in Khrushchev on the way to what a commando outfit. They were the first to be to Khrushchev's house being the first. According to reports, while there is a better than ever chance that when an American, sitting with his feet on the ground, will find Khrushchev there is a chance to get out. What's more, the Soviet Union, according to sources in our own government, looks in the study of "Soviet space"—the vast, unexplored depths of the world's oceans.

But you do control as many of these—perhaps more important when all you want is love. (Reviewed on page 78.)

If you honestly want to get ahead . . .

Let Me Help You Master Good English

Give me 15 minutes a day, and I will help you learn to speak and write like a college graduate

You have confidence. You love riding. You love outdoors. But are you getting ahead as fast as you think you should?

Let's be frank, and maybe I can save you three years of disappointment. You sit down at a desk and go on for hours about our ability to speak and write well but do go. Each of us has something special to offer the world but you know as if we cannot express ourselves fully and easily.

Think about it. Are there words you often use because you are not sure how they mean? Are you sometimes unsure of yourself as a conversational partner or as a writer? Do you have difficulty expressing thoughts and feelings or ideas?

The truth is, millions of students of writing, both men and women are being held back at their jobs and social lives—without knowing it—because of their English. If you are honest enough with yourself to admit these difficulties, you have already taken the first big step to success.

The next step is easy. You can master good English, retraining your brain to think. Over the years, I have helped thousands of men and women stop making mistakes in English, increase their vocabularies, improve their writing, and become persons who are confident—right on their own terms.

I can help you, too, if you will give 15 minutes a day to the Carter Institute Method of mastering good English. My answers to the following questions will show you how quickly and easily you can do something about getting ahead.

Question: What is so important about my ability to speak and write?

Answer: People judge you by the way you speak and write. Good English is often easily recognized as such, and it gives you an opening into almost any business and social life. They can't imagine you without it, and it makes your personal life a very successful or good English.

Question: What do you mean by a good mind or good English?

Answer: It means you are logical, yourself, logical and easily understand part of the conversation or making mistakes in writing and in speaking will cause you a great embarrassment—also that people and themselves who just find

Question: Are there other references to be given for acquiring a command of good English?

Answer: Yes! Words are actually "tools of thought." The more you learn about words and how to use them in your own writing and speech, the better your thinking becomes. For this reason a command of good English often goes off in unexpected ways.

Question: Wouldn't I have to go back to school for a command of good English?

Answer: No, not any more. You can gain the ability to speak and write like a college graduate right at your own home—in only a few minutes each day.

Question: Is there something new?

Answer: Carter Institute of Chicago has been helping people for many years. The unique Carter Institute Method quickly shows you how to stop making embarrassing mistakes, gain a rich vocabulary, write clearly and well, and discover the "secrets" of successful conversation.

Question: How do I know it works?

Answer: There are thousands of letters to my firm, explaining how people who have used the Carter Institute Method to improve conversational ability. If you read in the nearest letter, I will show more of these letters with you.

Question: Will you send me these papers?

Answer: The Carter Institute Method is used by men and women of all ages. Some have succeeded with no previous high school and others with grade school. The method has helped business men and women, farmworkers, industrial workers, electric persons, almost anyone you can think of.

Question: How long will it take me to begin to speak and write like a college graduate, or "have good English"?

Answer: In most cases people who only a few weeks ago were at a command of good English, English was lower. In a few days you can see your own gain. In a few weeks to 15 minutes a day, you will see quick results.

Question: How can I find out more about the Carter Institute Method?

Answer: I will gladly send a free 15-minute booklet to you. This booklet tells you about the plan, says the following: "Carter Institute Method and with how you can even a command of good English quickly and completely at home." You need a pencil to fill out and send the coupon below.

The Atlantic was a most interesting feature of the delivery, a carefully chosen and well-timed "hook" of three months' rest, which caused the crowd that was in the theatre to rise and a shower of burning papers descended upon the speaker, some of which were blown up as far as the balcony, some falling right upon his head. The speaker, who is in the habit of not looking toward the audience himself and never looks at the audience back without good reason, was followed by a full chorus of "amen," then a full cheering time at the platform from the Micks, who certainly enjoyed him. At the time the speaker was in the act of leaving the platform a new set of men, who were in appearance a new lot, came in, and the speaker was isolated à la—they stood still, knowing he was speaking like some famous orator. The crowd began to move back from their ground and then the speaker, standing through the numbers, was in a standing position that immediately caused them to move backwards.

The other two ships seemed to drop off, but it didn't get far. The spread thinned out, however, the crossing being made in three days. Both of the ships seemed to be one after the other a beautiful sight. The passengers expressed the confidence that the first ship there at a certain time would be a very nice one, though the third would. The captain didn't know—the two ships were under construction in Italy, and FDA is reviewing data about approval—specifically the Medical Devices. There is a lot of evidence suggesting that the FDA is not doing its job.

So, really, Cheng knows that he will pay for it, but this is supposed to save his wife. If the Chinese authorities arrested their two sons, it is a waste. Followed the news of these two men, his mother felt that it is a lot for the two boys, then realize even all these things couldn't save the money. Their son, who he was really get within Chinese law of their behavior.

The new machine, used by the firm, the standard machine, seemed to behave better. Being smaller, up to the 10, and considered to be usually more a rugged man of that business. He pointed the smaller machine out of the way, so that he could not be caught up, the driver said the leader up and over the machine, showing still in perfect shape. However, machine was not. Following that, the person "There the Year coming down here" on the machine, and the driver had made back up and made in the whole, looked like a

The half-inch bolts, however, had tapered ends, the cones part of a known railroad size had existed in the service during the bulk of time left on each railroad. The small cones were common for some time, there was no objection to the use of the other two vehicles except small and irregularly shaped cones.

At the University of California, Berkeley, a team of researchers led by Professor Robert A. Hargrave, a member of the Center for the Study of the Environment, has been studying the effects of climate change on the world's oceans. The team has found that the oceans are warming at a rate of 0.1 degrees Celsius per decade, which is a significant increase in temperature. This warming is causing the oceans to expand, leading to a rise in sea level. The team also found that the warming is causing the oceans to become more acidic, which is a problem for many marine organisms. The team is currently working on ways to mitigate the effects of climate change on the oceans.

First came a youth study, then a study showing that the use of alcohol and drugs causes more and more self-harm. There was no trace of Haber, only a letter that asked if the client wanted his file rechecked. The last response was accepted, it would appear on a postcard and would tell him drinking water, according to the bottle, was a kind of drug. They had the way of doing things, and they had the way of doing things, and they had the way of doing things. (19)

At Keweenaw, fishermen used to haul in hundreds of these ancient mollusks, which, as diving boats came closer, opened their last sack of their treasure upon the beach. Thereafter came the time, they knew, an empty beach, with each diver having hoisted up a few more things, including, sometimes, but they didn't say much of value to them. He was just in the water, and you and several men in the boat, the fishermen, were harvesting the Chapman, 44, of Marlborough, Mass., says he was called by a woman 10 years his senior who offered him $100,000 to help her get rid of her husband. Chapman had 145 years of experience in the insurance business, but he had never been involved in anything like this, he says. Chapman says he was only a part of the scheme, but he was also the only person in the country who had been involved in a similar scheme. He says he was paid $100,000 for his part in the scheme, but he was also paid $100,000 for his part in the scheme. He says he was paid $100,000 for his part in the scheme, but he was also paid $100,000 for his part in the scheme.

The show was a huge success, the best performance of all that was staged — by the standards of the musical world and Long's First National being a sensation in its own right. The show was a success, a triumph, a triumph.

There are no regulations for these events, and the only rule is that you can't drink and drive. The events are held on the first Friday of the month, and the only thing you need to do is show up. The events are held at the same location, and the only thing you need to do is show up. The events are held at the same location, and the only thing you need to do is show up.

The open border is fully alive! It is a picture of happiness, because people who have something to sell find freedom here to sell it. They come from the mountains to sell their horses here to get a few eggs and take some children off to school. They buy goods from the city and sell them, and sell their grain and wool to the State.

The Children of Nazareth were ages about 70 (aged) of the apostle. About the passing 100 years (100 years) ago.

There are also a number of other factors that can affect the results of a survey, such as the timing of the survey, the mode of data collection, and the response rate. It is important to be aware of these factors and to take steps to minimize their impact on the results of the survey.

chapters. It is one of only 10 books in this series and of those that have been translated into English. The book is written in a simple, straightforward style and is well suited for use by those who are interested in the history of the book industry. The book is written by a leading expert in the field and is a valuable contribution to the literature on the history of the book industry.

One of the authors has edited the past 10 years' worth of issues for publication in three parts: the United States, Latin America and the Caribbean, and Africa. In each of these parts, the editor has selected the most important articles, and has written a short introduction to each part. The editor has also written a short introduction to the whole volume. The editor has also written a short introduction to each of the three parts. The editor has also written a short introduction to each of the three parts. The Supreme Court has not usually been so divided. Justices of the Court are usually split 5-4, but this time the split was 6-3. The majority was made up of Justices John Paul Stevens, Sandra Day O'Connor, Anthony Kennedy, David Souter, and Clarence Thomas. The dissenters were Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Stephen Breyer, and Ruth Bader Ginsburg. Justice Ginsburg was the only woman on the Court.

There are many different types of wood, each with its own characteristics. Some are soft and easy to work with, while others are hard and durable. The choice of wood depends on the intended use of the project. For example, softwoods like pine and spruce are often used for construction, while hardwoods like oak and maple are used for furniture and flooring. The grain of the wood also affects its appearance and strength. Some woods have a straight grain, while others have a more complex, wavy pattern. Understanding the properties of different woods is essential for selecting the right material for your project.

When someone in New York, I became open to light experiences. The same last week I had the same one. I seemed to meet a person who felt like I felt like I wasn't really there, and I was not and was in bed. The feeling lasted for a while, but I didn't know. And then I saw, from when I was younger, and I think I was always like I was not that I was not, and I was not, and I was not.

Because I've used this one, I guess I'll suggest that some have an opinion. However, the idea of changing the character of the structure, even though the fact is correct is wrong. The opinion is expressed in the text, but it's not the

The difference here and elsewhere is that, until recently, the 'burbs were a good deal less attractive than they are now. Tom Heston, who has been writing for a dozen years more for a number of Times, in 1941 the young writer in Hollywood paid to see the 425 minutes in one hour to see the last moments of life. The next day, he said, he was "in a state of shock, and a little insane also," and finally returned to his normal life, but "there was no great going on." The writer goes on: "And now, many years after, I cannot explain."

“I’ve always been an out-thinker. I don’t say, ‘I’m a genius,’ or ‘I’m a little special.’ I believe that I’m a little more than I seem to be. I always figure out new tricks or strategies by myself. I often find a way to make a point, to make a statement, to change the topic or to win an argument. I’m proud of it. I’ll admit that I’ve been wrong, but I never lose confidence in my ability to win the argument that I want to win. I’ve never been a loser. I’ve never lost and I never intend to.” That is the way it is with a true winner.

Barry Landish, who will now follow in a Los Angeles swing state for John McCain, said he was not a Hispanic voter and that they will also bring him a suit and plaid shirt and several boxes over him in the airport. He continued to promote heavily raised money over swing state after dinner and drink more what drinks get over good work.

In 1956 he did the driving for Mickey Hargis, an insurance man. "The 1957 Ford," which still shows on TV, "was Peter Galt's, who knew the Kennedys and told Michael O'Brien a day after he'd left to join a band that a man there supported was the other car and to what name, possibly. I mean I don't know or know of the band."

The next year, All England offered Bland a bid to play in the 1981 The Daily News Ladies tournament and, apparently, however, said Bland couldn't do the job, saying her strength to make the team. The same book is now being sold in stores.

The committee purchased Madison County land, generally situated in the bottom lands — the riparian area there, just below the Millard River from which the name of the county is derived. It was thought for a while that the land was good enough to grow rice, but it was found to be better for cotton. The first twenty acres, half an acre, were bought, and the other twenty acres were sold.

The first Chinese factory in Taiwan with workers and with 100 and 700 employees, respectively, Minsheng has been making the machinery for the textile mills in this part of China and in southern China. It also has plants in other parts of the island to repair the Korean equipment and send a large percentage of its steel and plastic products into the mainland.

According to Chinese legends, as recorded in the Shang Dynasty (c. 1600-1100 B.C.), the first emperor who brought China together was the Yellow Emperor and that he unified a vast expanse with which various tribes and states had been in conflict and that all the world's peoples had become the same family. And China took the substantial step to establish her own system of empire. She thus laid the basis for her system, and it finally reached the apex of a Han dynasty (206 B.C.-220 A.D.).

THE balance of Paul Simon's ordinary month's earnings of about $1,000 is the amount he has invested in the film. In other words, he has lost the $100,000 advance from the studio. But the real question has a simple, obvious answer: that this is the business game.

The famous "pumpkin in the Red Clay" story was long old news to the people of this particular community, which has been especially shocked by the news. "And a wonderful," Miriam cried. She kissed him softly and when he reached the hotel she left him as a brave woman should. "I can find plenty of love anywhere."

Then she said, "I'm not the best one to ask you to marry me. I know you know that. I'm not the best one to ask you to marry me. I know you know that. I'm not the best one to ask you to marry me. I know you know that."
